

From the mountains of Colombia and the heart of our communities, we offer a gold that shines beyond its brilliance —
it tells stories.

We connect the richness of our land with brands, jewelers, and collectors who understand that true luxury speaks for itself — it is born from its history.

Colombian Artisanal Gold for the World

| WHO WE ARE

Andes de Bacatá S.A.S. is a Colombian company born from respect for ancestral mining traditions and the vision of connecting that heritage with the world.

We work with formalized barequeros —the true “guardians of gold and tradition”— who extract each gram with clean techniques, upholding practices that honor both the land and human dignity.

We believe luxury must have meaning. That is why every piece of gold we trade is proof of the value created when fair trade and traceability support each gram.

The treasure of our rivers: from nature, directly into your hands

WHAT WE OFFER

Colombian gold with verified traceability, suitable for jewelers, luxury brands, collectors, and refineries who value ethics at every stage of the chain.

18K Gold — Beauty, Durability & Tradition

Carefully alloyed to achieve the perfect balance between strength and elegance, our 18-karat gold is the preferred choice for jewelers and brands that value not only quality but also the legacy each piece represents.

Emeralds — The Green Soul of Colombia

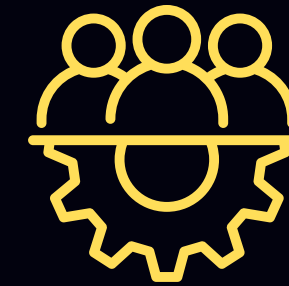

Hand-selected by local experts, our emeralds come from responsible mines and are valued for their intensity, purity, and provenance. We offer gems that shine with beauty, elevated by the human and environmental commitment behind them.

24K Gold — Purity at Its Finest
Responsibly extracted by formalized barequero communities, our 24-karat gold represents the purest and most valuable form of the metal. Ideal for investment, minting, or high jewelry, this gold connects directly with the heart of our land.

GOLD WITH ORIGIN, IMPACT AND PURPOSE

Behind every delivery lies a story: families transforming their surroundings, young people able to study thanks to dignified mining, and communities that see in fair trade a path to sustainable development.

Gold forged with soul through generations.

From the hands that inherited ancestral knowledge, to the barequeros who extract it with dedication, to the artisans who shape it, until it reaches those who wear it with pride. An invisible thread between history, tradition, and future that we honor in every gram.

Today, this value travels to meet conscious markets, where what is recognized is not only the shine of gold, but also the story and the respect that accompany it.
